Official Procedural Glossary

Glosario Oficial de Procedimientos de Modelo ONU

Disarmament and International Security Committee | Comité de Desarme y Seguridad Internacional

EN This glossary compiles the key procedural terms used in Model United Nations conferences, drawn from the MRBMUN 2026 Official Handbook and DISEC Academic Guide. It is intended to assist delegates in navigating committee proceedings, formulating motions and points correctly, and communicating with confidence in both formal debate and document drafting.

ES Este glosario recopila los términos procedimentales clave utilizados en conferencias de Modelos de Naciones Unidas, extraídos del Manual Oficial de MRBMUN 2026 y de la Guía Académica del DISEC. Está diseñado para ayudar a los delegados a navegar los procedimientos del comité, formular mociones y puntos correctamente y comunicarse con confianza tanto en el debate formal como en la redacción de documentos.

Amendment

EN A formal proposal to modify a specific clause or section of a working paper or resolution document that has already been introduced to the committee. Amendments must be motioned, voted upon, and approved or rejected by the committee.

ES Enmienda

Bloc

EN A group of delegates who share a similar position on the topic under debate and choose to collaborate in drafting a joint working paper. A committee may have two or more blocs simultaneously working on different documents.

ES Bloque

C

Cabinet Consultation (Motion to Open)

EN A motion that allows the speaking delegate to yield moderation of the debate to a delegate of their choice. The selected delegate assumes control of the floor until the chair board reclaims it. The motion must be seconded and voted upon.

ES Consulta de Gabinete

Caucus — Moderated

EN A procedural modality in which, for a limited and agreed period of time, delegates deliver brief speeches in sequence after raising their placard. The speaking order is determined by the chair board. The motion must state the duration and purpose, and must be seconded and voted upon.

ES Caucus Moderado

Caucus — Unmoderated (Simple)

EN A procedural motion to temporarily suspend formal committee procedure, allowing delegates to draft documents, consult with one another, or discuss the agenda in relatively informal terms. The motion must state the duration and purpose, and must be seconded and voted upon.

ES Caucus Simple (No Moderado)

Chair Board (Dais)

EN The presiding authority of a committee, composed of the Chair, Vice Chair, and any Moderators. The Dais is responsible for moderating debate, granting the floor, managing speakers' lists, ruling on points and motions, and evaluating delegate performance.

ES Mesa Directiva

Closing Statement

EN A final speech delivered by a delegate or litigating party summarising their position, reinforcing their key arguments, and addressing the opposing arguments raised throughout the debate.

ES Declaración de Cierre

Communiqué (Official Communiqué)

EN A formal document used in crisis committees to communicate a specific message to a designated audience. It must be corrected and approved by the chair board, then voted upon by the committee before being sent to the Crisis Staff.

ES Comunicado Oficial

Consensus

EN A decision reached when no member of the committee formally objects to a proposal, implying general agreement without a formal vote. Distinct from unanimous approval, as abstentions do not constitute an objection.

ES Consenso

Continuous Moderated Caucus

EN A procedural dynamic used in special committees in which delegates raise their placard to be selected as the next speaker by the chair board, without relying on a formal speakers' list.

ES Caucus Moderado Continuo

Delegate

EN A participant in a Model United Nations conference who represents an assigned country, organisation, or character. Delegates are responsible for maintaining the pace of debate, representing their assigned position accurately, and drafting official documents.

ES Delegado/a

Diplomatic Note (Protocol Paper)

EN A brief formal written message through which delegates may communicate with other delegates or with the chair board during a committee session. Used to request points, send messages, or initiate contact without interrupting the floor.

ES Papel protocolar

Directive

EN The principal action document drafted by delegates in crisis committees. Directives may be public (presented and voted upon by the committee) or private (sent directly to the chair board and Crisis Staff for execution). They outline an action, its objectives, methods, timing, location, resources, and a contingency plan.

ES Plan de acción

Divide the Question (Motion to)

EN A procedural motion to isolate and vote separately on a specific clause or section of a working paper, rather than voting on the document as a whole.

ES División de la cuestión

Extension (Motion to Extend)

EN A procedural motion requesting additional time beyond the originally allotted duration for a speaker, a caucus, or a formal discussion. Must be seconded and put to a vote.

ES Extensión

Extraordinary Questions Session (Motion to Open)

EN A procedural motion that opens a round of questions directed specifically at the delegate who has just delivered a speech. Questions must be addressed through the established permission system.

ES Sesión Extraordinaria de Preguntas

F

Faculty Advisor

EN The representative of a delegation who supervises the conduct and performance of their assigned delegates. Faculty Advisors may enter any committee session and request feedback from chair boards.

ES Asesor/a de Facultad

Final Directive

EN The conclusive document presented by crisis committee delegates in the model's final session. It must address the main crisis and all unresolved crises introduced throughout the committee, and must be voted upon by the committee.

ES Plan de Acción Final

Floor (Taking the Floor / Yielding the Floor)

EN The right to speak in a committee session. Taking the floor means a delegate has been granted speaking time by the chair board. Yielding the floor refers to transferring remaining speaking time to questions, comments, or another delegate.

ES Uso de la Palabra

Formal Discussion (Motion to Open)

EN A procedural motion to initiate a structured face-to-face debate between exactly two delegates following a speech. Standard duration is one minute, extendable to one and a half minutes.

ES Discusión Formal

M

Majority (Simple / Absolute / Two-Thirds)

EN The threshold of votes required for a motion or document to be approved. A simple majority requires more than half of votes cast; an absolute majority requires more than half of all members present; a two-thirds majority requires at least two thirds of votes cast.

ES Mayoría (Simple / Absoluta / Dos Tercios)

Manifesto

EN The final document drafted by delegates in the Political-Philosophical Modality. It compiles the delegate's ideological positions on the topics discussed throughout the committee and is presented before a panel for approval.

ES Manifiesto

Motion

EN A formal request made by a delegate to initiate a specific action or procedural change within the committee. Most motions must be seconded by another delegate and put to a vote before taking effect.

ES Moción

Motion of Precedence

EN The only motion that may interrupt another motion. It occurs when a delegate raises a motion of higher priority in the established hierarchy, which must then be addressed before the original motion.

ES Moción de Precedencia

O

Official Position Paper (OPP)

EN A mandatory document submitted by each delegate in the regular modality before or during the first working session. It includes relevant data about the represented country, its official position on the topic, and proposed solutions.

ES Papel de Posición Oficial (PPO)

Opening Statement

EN An initial speech delivered by a delegate or litigating party at the beginning of debate or trial proceedings, presenting their general position, key arguments, and the framework they intend to defend throughout the session.

ES Declaración de Apertura

P

Permission — For Preamble

EN A permission requested before asking a question, allowing the delegate to briefly reference or quote part of the preceding speaker's speech as context for their question.

ES Permiso para Preámbulo

Permission — For Subsequent

EN A permission requested to ask a follow-up question immediately following the answer to a prior question, without returning to the established questioning order.

ES Permiso para Subsecuente

Placard

EN The sign bearing the name of a country or delegation, used by delegates to signal their wish to take the floor, second a motion, be added to the speakers' list, or otherwise make their intention visible to the chair board.

ES Cartel (Placard)

Point of Order

EN An intervention raised by a delegate to alert the chair board when a procedural rule is being violated, either by another delegate or by the board itself. It takes priority over most other procedural actions.

ES Punto de Orden

Point of Parliamentary Inquiry

EN A question directed to the chair board regarding the rules of procedure or the functioning of the committee. It may only be raised when the floor is open and no delegate currently holds speaking time.

ES Punto de Duda Parlamentaria

Point of Personal Privilege

EN An intervention used to request an action of personal benefit for the delegate, such as adjusting audio, requesting a break, or addressing a personal need. It may also be used to submit requests via diplomatic note.

ES Punto de Privilegio Personal

Q

QARMAs (Questions A Resolution Must Answer)

EN A set of guiding questions provided in the academic guide that delegates must address when drafting their resolution documents. They define the core issues that a comprehensive and actionable resolution is expected to resolve.

ES PARs (Preguntas que una Resolución debe Responder)

Quorum

EN The minimum number of delegates required to be present for a committee session to be officially opened and for its proceedings to be considered valid. Typically defined as at least one-third of the committee membership.

ES Quórum

R

Right of Reply

EN A procedural right that allows a delegation to respond when it has been explicitly and directly offended by the statement of another delegate. It must be requested via diplomatic note and is granted at the discretion of the chair board.

ES Derecho de Réplica

Roll Call

EN The formal procedure at the beginning of each committee session in which the chair board calls each delegation by name and delegates respond to indicate their presence. Required to establish quorum and officially open the session.

ES Pase de Lista

Round Robin (Motion to Open)

EN A procedural modality in which all delegates deliver a brief speech in sequence from left to right as they are seated. Designed to give every delegate equal and organised speaking time on a particular issue.

ES Ronda Robín

Rules of Procedure

EN The formal set of procedural rules that governs the conduct of debate, the use of motions and points, voting mechanisms, and all other aspects of committee management. All delegates and chair board members are expected to know and follow these rules.

ES Normas de Procedimiento

S

Second (Seconding a Motion)

EN The formal act by which a delegate indicates their support for a motion raised by another delegate, thereby allowing the motion to proceed to a vote. Most procedural motions require a second before being put to the floor.

ES Secundar (una Moción)

Signatory

EN A delegate who co-signs a working paper, directive, or other official document, indicating their support for its introduction to the committee. A minimum number of signatories is typically required before a document may be formally introduced.

ES Signatario/a

Speakers' List

EN A formal and ordered list of delegates who have requested speaking time on a topic. The speakers' list is opened via motion at the start of each topic and determines the order in which delegates address the committee.

ES Lista de Oradores

Speaking Time

EN The allotted duration during which a delegate may address the committee. The standard duration is defined by the chair board and may be extended through a motion to extend speaker's time.

ES Tiempo de Discurso

T

Third Person (Diplomatic Language)

EN The convention in regular committees by which delegates refer to themselves and to other delegates in the third person (e.g., 'The delegation of France believes...' rather than 'I believe...'). This reflects the formal diplomatic character of UN procedure.

ES Tercera Persona (Lenguaje Diplomático).

U

Unilateral Action

EN An action or decision taken by a single state or delegation independently, without the consensus or approval of the broader committee or international community. In the context of UN debate, delegates are expected to justify any unilateral positions through substantive argument.

ES Acción Unilateral

Veto

EN The right held by permanent members of the Security Council (the United States, Russia, China, France, and the United Kingdom) to block the adoption of a substantive resolution by casting a negative vote, regardless of the position of other members.

ES Veto

Vote (In Favour / Against / Abstain)

EN The formal expression of a delegate's position on a motion or document. Delegates may vote in favour (yes), against (no), or abstain (refrain from voting). Abstentions are counted as present but do not count as votes in favour or against.

ES Votación (A Favor / En Contra / Abstención)

W

Warning

EN A formal sanction issued by the chair board to a delegate who violates the code of conduct, dress code, or rules of procedure. A series of warning notices leads to an official warning, which may result in suspension from the session or disqualification from awards.

ES Amonestación

Working Paper

EN The primary resolution document drafted collaboratively by delegates throughout a regular committee session. It presents agreed-upon solutions to the topic under debate and must be formally introduced and voted upon by the committee.

ES Documento de Trabajo

Y

Yielding the Floor

EN The act of a delegate transferring their remaining speaking time to questions, to comments, or to another delegate of their choice. If no yield is specified, the remaining time is automatically yielded to the chair board.

ES Ceder el Uso de la Palabra
